The striking skyline of Charlotte makes a great and lasting first impression. The remarkable and varied architecture symbolizes a diverse city that means business and characterizes the progress and opportunity of the New South. With a population of 632,000, Charlotte is one of the most rapidly growing metropolitan areas and ranks as the nation's 21st largest city.

Charlotte is a dynamic city that combines world-class amenities with Southern hospitality. Exciting restaurants, thriving arts and cultural attractions, professional sports, tree-lined Center City streets, lakes, parks and excellent shopping make Charlotte a first-rate city with small-town charm.

The city is the second largest financial center in the United States, behind only New York, and headquarters to the nation's second-largest (Bank of America) and fourth-largest (Wachovia) bank holding companies. Approximately $1.5 trillion in financial assets are managed in the Queen City and more than 300 of the Fortune 500 companies have an office location in Charlotte.

Charlotte's reference as the Queen City is owed to Queen Charlotte, wife of England's King George III. In 1762, settlers in the Carolina colony honored King George's new wife, Charlotte Sophia of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, by giving a newly-formed county the name Mecklenburg. When a town was established within the county in 1768, founders named it "Charlotte Town" in an attempt to win favor.

The intersection of Trade and Tryon streets in Center City provides a link between the past and the present, as symbolic bronze sculptures preside over the four corners. A female textile worker characterizes industry, an African-American railroad worker signifies transportation, a gold miner symbolizes commerce and a woman holding a baby represents the optimistic future of the city.

In addition to the Sting, Charlotte is home to numerous sports options. The NBA Charlotte Bobcats is a brother organization to the Sting and the NFL Carolina Panthers were the 2003 NFC Champions. The region is a hotbed for NASCAR racing with Lowe's Motor Speedway as a regular stop on the circuit. PGA Golf comes to town in May for the Wachovia Championships and the Meineke Car Care Bowl takes place in late December. Charlotte is also home to the Triple-A Charlotte Knights, the ECHL Charlotte Checkers and the Charlotte Eagles pro soccer team.

CHARLOTTE BOBCATS ARENA

Charlotte Bobcats Arena opened on October 21, 2005, with a sold-out concert by The Rolling Stones. Located in the heart of Uptown Charlotte, it is home to the Sting, Bobcats and ECHL's Charlotte Checkers.

Charlotte Bobcats Arena will host more than 125 events in its first year, including sports, concerts, ice shows and family entertainment. The arena has already hosted some of the biggest names in the music business, from U2, Elton John, Aerosmith, Bon Jovi, Keith Urban and Lenny Kravitz to more intimate shows such as Dolly Parton, Clay Aiken, Mannheim Steamroller, Larry the Cable Guy and Martina McBride, all of whom played in the arena's theater set-up. The arena also hosted a number of popular family shows, including Disney on Ice, Arenacross, Monster Jam and the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

The arena's design is a "celebration of gathering." Open walkways, terraces and exposed staircases encourage conversation and exchange between arena guests in all areas of the building, providing connectivity and creating community.

The forms and materials of the exterior design are assembled in a way that responds to the urban fabric as well as the communities past, present, and future. The steel and brick elements of the design represent the strength, stability and foundation of Charlotte's heritage, while the transparent and more fluid contemporary forms emerging from the base are a reflection of Charlotte's eye on the future and the anticipation and excitement of the events yet to happen in the arena.

The crescent "C" shape of the arena, which begins at the entry lobby sequence and sweeps around the seating bowl, is a symbolic gesture of the community embracing the event. Fans and visitors will find familiar reflections of the community illustrated through public art and unique displays, which pay tribute to the region's rich sports and commercial history.

Interior organization of the building has been developed around the concept of streets and galleries. The streets function as transitional circulation paths connecting the galleries, which are the major food and entertainment zones for the complex. While passing along the "streets," patrons will experience the rich colors and textures of Charlotte's landscape. Large visual elements that represent modern "trees" line the arena's concourse "streets" and create an arch overhead, providing canopies similar to the large trees lining Charlotte streets. A higher level of color and energy is presented in the food galleries, where sponsors of these spaces have created a unique experience for the visiting patron. As a destination point, the galleries pay tribute to Charlotte's spirit of Transportation, Industry, Commerce, and Future, providing memorable points to keep the fans oriented in the facility.

Images of the Charlotte area are incorporated throughout the arena. A "Welcome to the Gateway to the Carolinas" sign above the box office features imagery in each letter that corresponds to larger artwork reflecting different destinations and industry in the Carolinas. Maps of North and South Carolina are featured high above each side of the main bowl entrance; etched glass listings of every city or town in each state with populations greater than 10,000 line the wall below the maps along this entrance.

The design and project teams shared a goal to build an arena that reflects the spirit of the community of Charlotte. Charlotte Bobcats Arena does just that. Bobcats Sports & Entertainment, which operates the city-owned building, set out to "wow" the community by providing a unique experience for guests while treating them to a superior level of amenities.

"An emotionally-engaging experience is accomplished by delivering a total event experience," said Barry Silberman, Charlotte Bobcats Arena chief operating officer. "We have paid special attention to not just what our guests view, but also what they hear, taste, smell and touch in the arena to provide the ultimate sensory experience."

The most distinctive element of the arena is the state-of-the-art scoreboard. The 38-foot high and 36-foot wide, 80,000-pound scoreboard, created by Spurgeon Design Group and manufactured by Daktronics, is the most technologically advanced scoreboard and sound system in the country and features the largest video screen in use in any NBA facility.

Full-screen LED technology allows an unlimited configuration of live and recorded video, scores, animation and graphics. A unique, three-dimensional backlit cityscape above the scoreboard features the Charlotte skyline and uses a 360-degree projection system that allows the skyline to change and feature graphics such as airplanes and fireworks.

Ticket holder comfort is the hallmark of the Charlotte Bobcats Arena experience. The arena features 60 percent of its seating from baseline to baseline, providing guests with a unique feeling of closeness to the court, stage or ice. Generous seating and legroom is standard at every seat.

Seating configurations for Charlotte Bobcats Arena were developed by incorporating the best elements from other NBA and NHL facilities. The result is a wide variety of seating options that provide something for everyone. The arena includes upper and lower bowl seats closer to the action as well as 10 Founders Suites, 50 Uptown Suites, 37 Royal Boxes, 22 Terrace Tables and 130 Ledge Seats, which include dinner and a great view of the court.

A large portion of providing an emotionally engaging experience to guests includes food. Charlotte Bobcats Arena has partnered with Charlotte food consultant John Sergi and industry-leading Levy Restaurants to provide all the food offerings in the arena. The result is a convergence of food with sports and entertainment unlike anything the Charlotte community has experienced before in breadth, detail and quality.

Guests enjoy an incredibly diverse menu with something for everyone; including the addition of unexpected items to fan favorites at general concessions and everything from 333, the fine-dining restaurant, to pre-planned catering for business and social entertaining for luxury seat holders.

Charlotte Bobcats Arena provides guests incredible amenities, regardless of where they are located in the building.

The outdoor Trade Street plaza features a large video screen to see coming attractions, an entertainment stage and access to the fully appointed Team Store where fans can purchase team apparel and gifts.

As guests enter the four-story atrium located off the plaza, they are greeted by one part of the arena's public art project; a large colored-tile mural by artist Mike Mandel depicting the history of basketball in the Piedmont.

Additional pieces of public art are located both in and outside the building including the four lighted entry columns on Trade Street by artist Andrew Leicester, the main lobby's colorful terrazzo floor created by Thomas Sayre; photographic murals by local artist Tommie Robinson and three outdoor carved granite benches by Paul J. Sires located on the 5th Street side near the street-level, glass enclosed Presbyterian Hospital Training Center. Charlotte Bobcats Arena also commissioned artwork from local artist Paul Rouso which is showcased throughout the building.

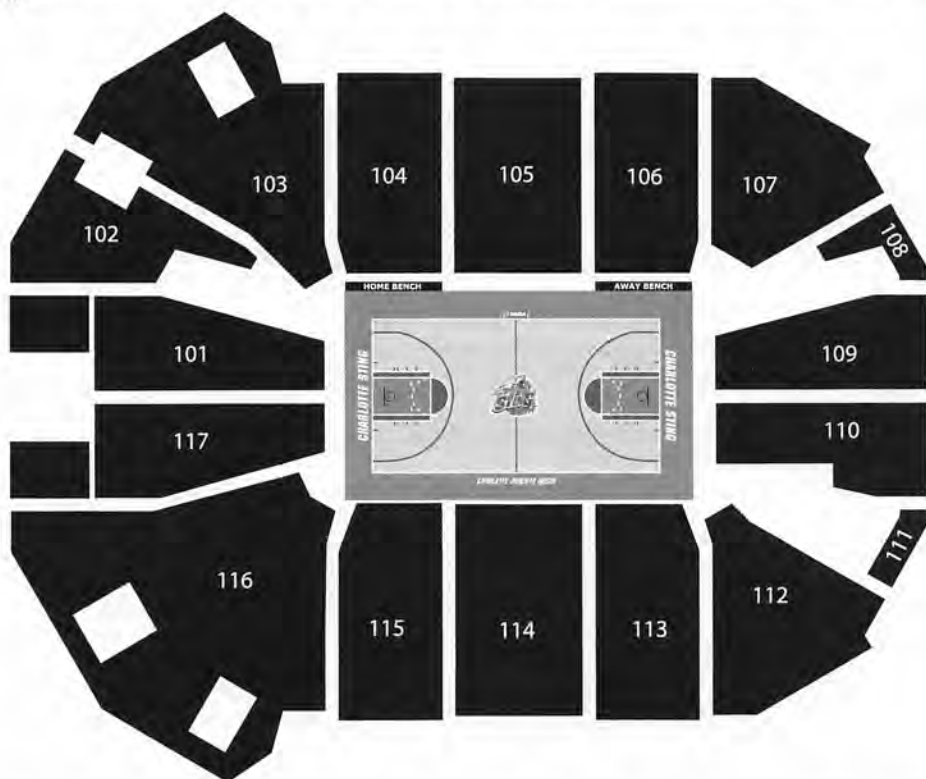

One of most unique amenities in the arena is Rock the Rooftop, a fan zone located in the Uptown Concourse. The area is open to the seating bowl for the ultimate in indoor tailgating. Complete with concessions, interactive kid's area and a 35-foot water tower that features a theatrically lit stage, Rock the Rooftop attracts guests from all seating areas.

"We have built an arena unmatched by any in the country, featuring the latest technology, a multitude of seating options and a superior level of amenities offered to arena guests," said Silberman. "Charlotte Bobcats Arena will long be a community gathering place where people can see their friends, neighbors and relatives to enjoy shared experiences."

CHARLOTTE BOBCATS ARENA

Charlotte Bobcats Arena is located at 333 East Trade Street in the heart of Uptown Charlotte. The arena is bordered by Trade Street, Fifth Street, Caldwell Street, and Charlotte's Light Rail Transit (LRT) line (currently under construction). Charlotte Bobcats Arena is located directly across Trade Street from the Charlotte Transportation Center, the main access point for bus services operated by CATS.

Nearly 30,000 off-street parking spaces are located within a 15-minute walking distance of Charlotte Bobcats Arena. Advance purchase online parking is available to guests through the Print and Park program. There are many ways to reach the Charlotte Bobcats Arena from Charlotte's various forms of public transportation. Charlotte Bobcats Arena is conveniently located next to Charlotte's main bus terminal. In addition, the arena has stops for both the Charlotte and Gold Rush street trolleys.

ROBERT JOHNSON MAJORITY OWNER

Robert L. Johnson made history as the first African-American to become the majority owner of a professional sports organization when the NBA Board of Governors granted him the expansion NBA Charlotte Bobcats and WNBA Charlotte Sting franchises on January 10, 2003.

In his first months of ownership, Johnson moved swiftly to assemble the NBA's 30th franchise, hiring NBA veteran Ed Tapscott to head the organization, donating one million dollars to the YMCA highlighting a community-minded organizational approach, creating a new basketball identity for Charlotte and breaking ground on a new Uptown arena.

In his first years as an NBA owner, Johnson has successfully followed through on his pledge to the City of Charlotte to combine great citizens off the court with great players on the court.

Johnson also created the Charlotte Jumper Classic, an elite Grand Prix horse show jumping competition held annually in the Queen City, which benefits the Bobcats Charitable Foundation.

In 2003, Johnson was named by Sports Illustrated as the most influential minority in sports, while The Sporting News tabbed him the second-most powerful owner in sports.

Starting a large business from the beginning is not new for Johnson. He founded Black Entertainment Television (BET) in 1980 as a cable television network to serve the information and entertainment needs of African-Americans. It is now the leading African-American-operated media and entertainment entity in the United States, reaching 75 million homes.

In 2000, Johnson sold BET to Viacom, Inc for approximately $3 billion, and formed the RLJ Companies, where he owns or holds interest in companies operating in the hospitality/restaurant, real estate, fast food, gaming and entertainment/media industries.

From 1976 to 1979, Johnson served as vice president of government relations for the National Cable & Telecommunications Association (NCTA), a trade association representing more than 1,500 cable television companies. Prior to joining the NCTA, Johnson was press secretary for the Honorable Walter E. Fauntroy, Congressional Delegate from the District of Columbia. Johnson previously held positions at the Washington Urban League and the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

Johnson serves on the following boards of directors: Hilton Hotels, NBA Board of Governors, Jazz at Lincoln Center, American Film Institute, Strayer Education, Inc., Johns Hopkins University and Lowe's Companies. Johnson is also a member of the Board of Governors for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, Ohio; and The Grammy Foundation.

Winner of the 1997 Hall of Fame Award by Broadcasting & Cable Magazine, Johnson has been honored with Cablevision Magazine's 20/20 Vision Award, which lists him as one of the 20 most influential people in the cable industry, an NAACP Image Award, President's Award from the National Cable & Telecommunications Association, CTAM's Grand Tam Award, National Women's Political Caucus' Good Guys Award and a Distinguished Alumni Award from Princeton University.

Johnson is a graduate of the University of Illinois and holds a master's degree in International Affairs from the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University. Johnson maintains residences in Washington, DC and Charlotte, and is the father of a daughter, Paige, and a son, Brett.

ED TAPSCOTT

PRESIDENT / CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

A dynamic personality and well-versed in professional basketball, Ed Tapscott was named president and chief executive officer of Bobcats Sports & Entertainment on March 23, 2006.

Tapscott has led the Bobcats organization since the NBA granted Charlotte an expansion franchise in January 2003. He previously served as president and chief operating officer, where he managed the organization's day-to-day operations. In his current role, Tapscott retains the president's title while working closely with the organization's ownership group in directing the strategic on-court and off-court development of the Bobcats, Sting and Charlotte Bobcats Arena.

Tapscott also serves as an Alternate Governor on the National Basketball Association Board of Governors and is the team's lead representative on all basketball and business matters in Charlotte and at the league level.

Just days after being granted an NBA expansion franchise, Robert L. Johnson turned to Tapscott to direct the organization's basketball and business operations. Tapscott immediately immersed himself into building the NBA's 30th team and also preparing the Charlotte Sting for a season that was only months away. By spending countless time in the community, Tapscott formed relationships that have earned the organization rave reviews from the NBA, city leaders and the Charlotte population.

Under Tapscott's direction, the NBA team created an identity – the Bobcats name, logo and color scheme were announced on June 11, 2003 – hired a general manager and head coach, began construction on a state-of-the-art Uptown arena and embraced a Charlotte community that has welcomed the organization with open arms.

In his first season with the organization, the Sting placed second in the Eastern Conference and qualified for the playoffs for the sixth time in the franchise's seven-year history, one of only two teams to own that distinction. The team acquired the third overall pick in the 2004 WNBA Draft without relinquishing a starter. Most recently, he hired basketball legend Muggsy Bogues as the new head coach of the Sting.

Active in the Charlotte community, Tapscott serves on the boards of the United Way, Urban League, UNCC Belk College of Business, Charlotte Center City Partners, Charlotte Chamber of Commerce, Johnson C. Smith University Board of Visitors, The Greater YMCA and Winston Salem State University Leadership School.

Tapscott brings a wealth of experience to the expansion franchise, having served in a variety of basketball roles for the past 25 years. He was vice president of player personnel and basketball operations and served as interim president and general manager of the New York Knicks during the 1990's, when the team made two trips to the NBA Finals (1994 and 1999) and advanced to at least the second round of the playoffs every year. In addition, Tapscott worked as a front office consultant to the Milwaukee Bucks and Phoenix Suns.

Tapscott's career in basketball first began in 1978 as an assistant coach at American University. Tapscott was elevated to the head coach position in 1982 and he guided the Eagles to more victories than any other coach in the program's history.

He left the school in 1990 to become a player agent for Advantage International in Washington, DC, and worked with the firm for one year before joining the Knicks staff.

Prior to joining the Charlotte franchise, he worked as an on-air television analyst for Fox Sports and Comcast Sports Net. His duties included covering the NBA Development League and the Washington Wizards.

Tapscott completed his undergraduate and graduate studies at Tufts University, where he also played basketball for Coach Tom Penders. Tapscott completed his legal education at the Washington College of Law at American University.

A native of Washington, DC, Tapscott and his wife, Janis Thomas, are proud parents of a daughter, Logan.

PETER SMUL
CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Peter Smul was elevated to the role of chief operating officer of Bobcats Sports & Entertainment on March 23, 2006. In his position, he directs the day-to-day operations of both the Charlotte Bobcats and Charlotte Sting and oversees all sales, service, administrative, finance, legal and marketing functions for the two franchises.

Smul previously served as executive vice president of business operations and chief financial officer, where he directed all aspects of business and financial affairs for the organization.

Smul joined the Bobcats from the NBA league office, where he worked for eight years in a variety of capacities, most recently as vice president of league development. He led a task force that developed a new ownership model for the WNBA and its teams, allowing for ownership by non-NBA franchises. Additionally, he was responsible for researching and analyzing WNBA expansion cities, identifying prospective team owners and negotiating with expansion candidates.

Some of his other work within the NBA included the start up and management teams for the WNBA and the NBA's minor league, the National Basketball Association Development League. He began working at the league office in 1995 as the manager of business planning, a role in which he implemented a business planning and budgeting process for the league. Smul also worked at Credit Suisse First Boston and Mercer Management Consulting, a general strategy consulting firm.

Currently he serves on the Discovery Place Board of Trustees and the Jewish Community Center's Board of Directors. He is also involved in various community Youth Sports programs.

A graduate of Yale University in 1987, Smul earned an MBA from Harvard Business School in 1992. He and his wife, Debra, have eight-year-old twins, Jack and Lucie.

MICHAEL BEHRMAN

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT / CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Michael Behrman was promoted to the position of executive vice president and chief financial officer on March 23, 2006. BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

TRUDI LACEY
GENERAL MANAGER

Entering her sixth overall season with the Charlotte Sting and her third as the team's general manager, Trudi Lacey oversees all basketball-related decisions for the team.

She joined the Sting in 2001 as an assistant coach and was promoted to head coach and assistant general manager on February 13, 2003. Lacey added general manager to her title on November 19, 2003, and served in the dual roles until 10 games left in the 2005 season when Muggsy Bogues took over the reins as head coach.

In her time as general manager, Lacey has orchestrated several moves, including the acquisition of a 2006 first round draft pick, Kristen Rasmussen and Adrienne Goodson from the Houston Comets in exchange for Dawn Staley on August 1, 2005. Prior to the 2005 season, Lacey acquired Sheri Sam via free agency and obtained Helen Darling and Tangelia Smith through trades.

She also selected Janel McCarville with the first overall selection in the 2005 WNBA Draft and chose Monique Currie and Tye'sha Fluker in the first round of the 2006 WNBA Draft.

In nearly three seasons as head coach, Lacey posted a 37-55 record. In her first year at the helm in 2003, her squad posted an 18-16 record and reached the WNBA playoffs.

During her time as an assistant coach, the Sting posted a 36-28 record, advancing to the WNBA playoffs in both 2001 and 2002. Lacey helped engineer one of the greatest in-season turnarounds in professional sports history in 2001 when Charlotte opened the season by going 1-10, only to close the campaign on a 17-4 run. The Sting topped that regular-season finish by defeating the number one and two seeds in the Eastern Conference during the playoffs to reach the WNBA Finals.

Prior to joining the WNBA, Lacey was involved with USA Basketball as a player, coach and committee member. As assistant director of women's programs beginning in 1997, Lacey assisted in the development and implementation of all women's programs pertaining to trials, training camps and international competitions. She also worked closely with the Men's and Women's National Teams, who both won gold medals during the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia.

Lacey's coaching career began at her alma mater, N.C. State, in 1983. She has also coached at the University of Maryland, the University of South Florida, NAIA Francis Marion College, Manhattan College and James Madison University.

Off the court, Lacey is president and founder of LifeCoach Designs, LLC, a personal and business consulting company. She is also very active in the community, serving on the Board of Directors for "A Child's Place" and on the Wade Trophy Committee for the WBCA. She actively supports the Susan G. Koman Foundation, Samaritan Purse, Girl Scouts, Tri-County Animal Rescue and the YMCA. Lacey has also worked as a television analyst for ESPN and FoxSports Net. Lacey is a member of the WBCA, BCA and the EWGA.

A star player at North Carolina State University, Lacey was honored as a Women's Sports Foundation and National Scouting Service All-American in 1980 and had her jersey retired in 2000.

MUGGSY BOGUES

HEAD COACH

The Charlotte Sting named Tyrone "Muggsy" Bogues as the sixth head coach in franchise history on August 3, 2005. In his 10 games with the team in 2005, he led the Sting to a 3-7 record, equaling the team's win total over the first 24 games of the season.

Bogues also implemented an uptempo style of play reminiscent of his days as an NBA point guard. Over those 10 games, the Sting averaged 66.9 points compared to 59.4 through their first 24 outings.

A familiar figure in Charlotte, the 5-3 Bogues enjoyed a 14-year NBA playing career, including nine-plus years in Charlotte, as he was one of original members of the NBA in Charlotte in 1988 when the Hornets picked him in the Expansion Draft.

The top playing moments of his career came in the Queen City, as he averaged 10.8 points and 10.1 assists in 1993-94, a career-high 10.7 assists in 1989-90, a personal-best 11.1 points in 1994-95 and was regularly among the NBA leaders in assists, steals and assist-to-turnover ratio.

Bogues averaged 8.8 points, 8.8 assists and 1.7 steals during his nine-plus year tenure in Charlotte, up from his career averages of 7.7 points, 7.6 assists and 1.54 steals.

Originally selected by Washington with the 12th overall pick in the 1987 NBA Draft, Bogues also spent time as a member of the Golden State Warriors and Toronto Raptors. He remains the NBA's all-time leader in assist-to-turnover ratio with 4.69.

Bogues came to the Carolinas in 1983 when he enrolled at Wake Forest University and completed a four-year career with the Demon Deacons as the Atlantic Coast Conference's all-time leader in assists and steals (since surpassed by Chris Corchiani and Bobby Hurley). Wake Forest honored his accomplishment by retiring his number 14 jersey.

A native of Baltimore, Maryland, he attended famed Dunbar High School and was teammates with future NBA players Reggie Williams, Reggie Lewis and David Wingate.

Bogues is an active member of the Charlotte community making numerous appearances throughout the region. He also hosts his own basketball camps, with this year's edition being held at Charlotte Bobcats Arena.

An avid golfer, Bogues also holds a stake in a real estate company. He is the father of three children - two daughters, Tyeisha and Brittany, and a son, Tyrone Jr.

On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June of 1997.

Since that day in 1996 there have been many firsts for the WNBA:

- Val Ackerman — the first president of the WNBA
- Sheryl Swoopes — the first player signed to the WNBA
- Cynthia Cooper — the league's first Most Valuable Player
- Houston Comets — the first WNBA Champions
- Lisa Leslie — the first WNBA player to dunk

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, California. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks' guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks, 67-57.

10TH ANNIVERSARY

As the most successful and longest-running professional women's team sport in America, the WNBA looks forward to celebrating its 10th Anniversary in 2006 when we will pause to honor those who have enabled us to reach this milestone and eagerly look to embrace the future and the myriad opportunities that lie before us.

To commemorate this special anniversary season, the League will initiate a number of special platforms. Two of the more visible platforms will be the selection of 10 players to the WNBA All-Decade Team and the selection of the 10 Greatest Moments in WNBA history. Both initiatives will involve fan voting on WNBA.com.

Voting for the All-Decade Team, which will see fans, celebrities, media and basketball personnel narrow a group of 30 nominees to a list of 10 current and former players, will take place between April 28 and May 31. The team will be announced on June 13 and will be honored at the WNBA All-Star Game in July.

The Greatest Moments program will involve fans choosing their top 10 moments from among a list of 20 nominations. The top 10 Greatest Moments will then be aired on ESPN and ABC broadcasts with the #1 moment being unveiled during the 2006 WNBA Finals.

The WNBA's 10th anniversary season tips off on Saturday, May 20, 2006 and will include ABC's broadcast of the defending WNBA Champion Sacramento Monarchs as they commemorate their 2005 WNBA title by raising the championship banner prior to squaring off against All-Star guard Diana Taurasi and the Phoenix Mercury at ARCO Arena beginning at 4 p.m. EDT

BROADCAST

The national television schedule for the 2006 regular season includes six games on ABC, 14 Tuesday night games on ESPN2 (including five doubleheaders), and nearly 50 games on NBA TV. The league's 10th season also will feature appointment viewing on Tuesday nights as ESPN2 will televise 14 WNBA games — including five doubleheaders — on Tuesdays this spring/summer.

Broadcast coverage of the 2006 WNBA postseason by ABC and ESPN2 will include more first-round games than in 2005, and continuing with the league's more consistent presence on ESPN2, every game of the 2006 WNBA Finals will be televised by ESPN2.

GLOBAL REACH

The WNBA enjoys significant popularity around the globe as evidenced by the fact that in each year since 1999, WNBA regular season games and Finals contests have been telecast to more countries, in more languages, via more broadcast partners than the previous year. During the 2005 season, the WNBA set records with 68 telecasters broadcasting WNBA programming to 193 countries in 31 languages. In addition, WNBA entered first-time agreements with telecasters in many markets, including Albania; Belarus; China; Czech Republic; Dominican Republic; Hong Kong; Nigeria; the Philippines; and Ukraine. International television interest in the league is driven by the league's many international stars, including Lauren Jackson of Australia, who in 2003 became the first foreign-born league MVP in the WNBA. In 2005, WNBA games and programming were broadcast to all 19 countries represented by one the league's 30 international players.

HISTORY OF THE WNBA

PARTNERS

The WNBA enters its groundbreaking 10th season with unprecedented marketing support for a women's professional sport. In addition to enjoying long-standing partnerships with major national and international brands such as Coke, Gatorade, Nike, Reebok, America Online, Spalding and Southwest Airlines, the league last season added major new marketing partnerships with Toyota, T-Mobile, and McDonalds. This year, new partners include Ocean Spray-Craisins and Luminari. In addition, existing partners Reebok and Spalding took on new roles, respectively, as the Presenting Partner and Associate Partner for the 2006 WNBA Draft.

The WNBA's marketing partners utilize the league to support women's sports and reach its strong fan base of women, families and young girls through advertising in the League's nationally-televised games, national promotions, player endorsements and special events. The WNBA delivers the highest concentration of adult women, who statistics show make the majority of purchasing decisions in American households, both in-arena and on television, of any sport.

WNBA ALL-STAR

On July 14, 1999, the league held the Inaugural WNBA All-Star Game at Madison Square Garden in New York City, which was televised live on ESPN. The capacity crowd of 18,649 witnessed the incredible athleticism, teamwork, fan involvement and in-arena excitement that is unique to the WNBA. The Western Conference All-Stars -- led by the game's Most Valuable Player and Los Angeles Sparks center Lisa Leslie -- defeated the Eastern Conference 79-61.

In 2003, the WNBA All-Star Game marked its fifth anniversary with a return to Madison Square Garden on July 12. The event made its network television debut on ABC. The West All-Stars won the event for the fifth straight year by beating the East All-Stars 84-75 in front of 18,610 fans, with Nikki Teasley of the Los Angeles Sparks taking home the MVP honors.

In 2004, the Summer Olympic Games in Athens, Greece created a one of a kind opportunity for the WNBA. After the league's decision to break for the month of August to allow Olympic team members to represent the U.S., the concept for WNBA All-Stars vs. USA Basketball: The Game at Radio City was born. Serving as an Olympic Team send-off, the game -- played in front of a sell-out crowd -- made history as the first basketball game played in the historic venue.

2005 brought the All-Star game to Mohegan Sun arena, home of the Connecticut Sun. The West All-Stars kept its perfect record alive (6-for-6) as they won the highest-scoring WNBA All-Star game in history, 122-99. MVP honors went to Houston Comets guard Sheryl Swoopes and Lisa Leslie converted on her second career WNBA dunk.

WNBA FINALS

The first four years of the WNBA saw the Houston Comets dominate the league Finals and create the first dynasty of the WNBA. The Comets captured the inaugural Championship against New York on August 30, 1997 by a score of 65-51. Comets guard, Cynthia Cooper won the first Finals MVP award. In 1998, the WNBA Finals expanded to a three-game series and Houston defeated Phoenix two games to one. Houston's Cynthia Cooper captured her second consecutive Finals MVP award. The Houston Comets would go on to capture Championship titles in 1999 and 2000.

In 2001, Los Angeles knocked off Houston in the early rounds of the Western Conference playoffs and advanced on to meet Charlotte in the WNBA Finals. Los Angeles, due in large part to the play of Finals MVP Lisa Leslie, won the WNBA Finals two games to none. In 2002, Los Angeles advanced to the WNBA Finals and earned the right to defend their WNBA championship versus New York. The Sparks defeated the Liberty two games to zero and won their second consecutive Finals and Lisa Leslie won the WNBA Finals MVP award for the second straight year.

In 2003 the WNBA had a new championship team, after just two champions in five years. The Detroit Shock captured the WNBA crown in front of a record-setting crowd of 22,076. The Shock won 83-78 over the Los Angeles Sparks and Detroit center Ruth Riley was awarded the Finals MVP.

In 2004, the Seattle Storm and the Connecticut Sun advanced to the WNBA Finals each for the first time. In a decisive third game, the Storm who were in complete control the entire forty minutes, defeated the Sun 74-60 and Seattle guard Betty Lennox captured the Finals MVP title.

In 2005, The Sacramento Monarchs and the Connecticut Sun competed for the chance to win the first ever best-of-five WNBA Finals. The Monarchs captured the team's first WNBA championship as they took down the Sun in four games and Sacramento center Yolanda Griffith won the Finals MVP award.

THE WNBA DRAFT

The Comets selected Tina Thompson, the Pac-10 Conference's leading scorer, with the first pick of the inaugural WNBA Draft. Margo Dydek, a 7-2 center from Poland, was selected first in the 1998 Draft by the Starz, and two-time Associated Press Women's Basketball Player of the Year Chamique Holdseclaw was the Washington Mystics' No. 1 selection in the 1999 Draft. In 2000, the Cleveland Rockers selected Ann Wauters from Belgium as the 1st overall pick, and Australian Olympian Lauren Jackson went to the Seattle Storm with the No. 1 selection in 2001. One Year later, National Player of the Year Sue Bird was selected by Seattle, who had the top pick for the second consecutive year by virtue of the WNBA's first Draft Lottery, held in New York on November 13, 2001. The Cleveland Rockers made Latoya Thomas of Mississippi State the No. 1 selection in the 2003 WNBA Draft held Friday, April 25, 2003. The 2004 first overall pick has come to be known as the worst kept secret in the history of the WNBA Draft when the Phoenix Mercury selected University of Connecticut star and three-time NCAA Champion Diana Taurasi. On April 16, 2005, Charlotte selected Janel McCarville from the University of Minnesota as the number one overall pick in the 2005 WNBA Draft. Most recently, the Minnesota Lynx chose Seimone Augustus from LSU as the top pick in the 2006 WNBA Draft.

IN THE COMMUNITY

Off the court the WNBA continues to position its players as positive role models for all of its fans - male and female, young and old. The League and its teams created and implemented programs which emphasized healthy lifestyles, positive self-image, breast health awareness, reading and youth basketball programs.

Through WNBA Cares, the WNBA is deeply committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on promoting a healthy lifestyle and positive body image, breast health awareness, youth and family development, and education.

WNBA Cares in partnership with NBA Cares, an initiative through which, the Leagues, players and teams will raise and contribute $100 million for charity, donate more than 1 million hours of hands-on volunteer service to communities worldwide, and build more than 100 places where kids and families can live, learn and play over the next five years.

WNBA Be Smart - Be Fit - Be Yourself encourages teens and women of all ages to learn more about their bodies and the importance of physical fitness through programs related to health, fitness, nutrition and self-esteem. Programming inspires teens and women to get started on "being fit" through small changes in their daily regimen. The content of the program is communicated and delivered through a Fitness Journal, a 'Team' of Spokespeople, National and Local grassroots events, promotion and a mobile tour.

Also, this past off season the WNBA was the recipient of the 2006 Women who Make a Difference Award from the National Council on Research for Women

KEY RULES

Ball size: 28.5" (high school and NCAA women's)

3-point line: 20'6 1/4" (International)

The WNBA has approved three rule changes for the 2006 season:

- The format of WNBA games will be changed to four 10-minute quarters instead of the previous two 20-minute halves.
- In addition, the 24-second shot clock replaces the previous 30-second clock. It will be reset to 14 seconds when a defensive foul or other defensive violation occurs with less than 14 seconds remaining on the shot clock. It will be left unchanged when a defensive violation occurs with 14 seconds or more remaining on the shot clock.
- Jump balls to begin the second, third and fourth quarter, formerly the second half, have been eliminated and the winner of the opening tip will receive the ball out of bounds at the start of the fourth quarter. The loser of the opening tip will have position at the beginning of the second and third quarter. Jump balls, however, will still be used to determine possession after a held ball.

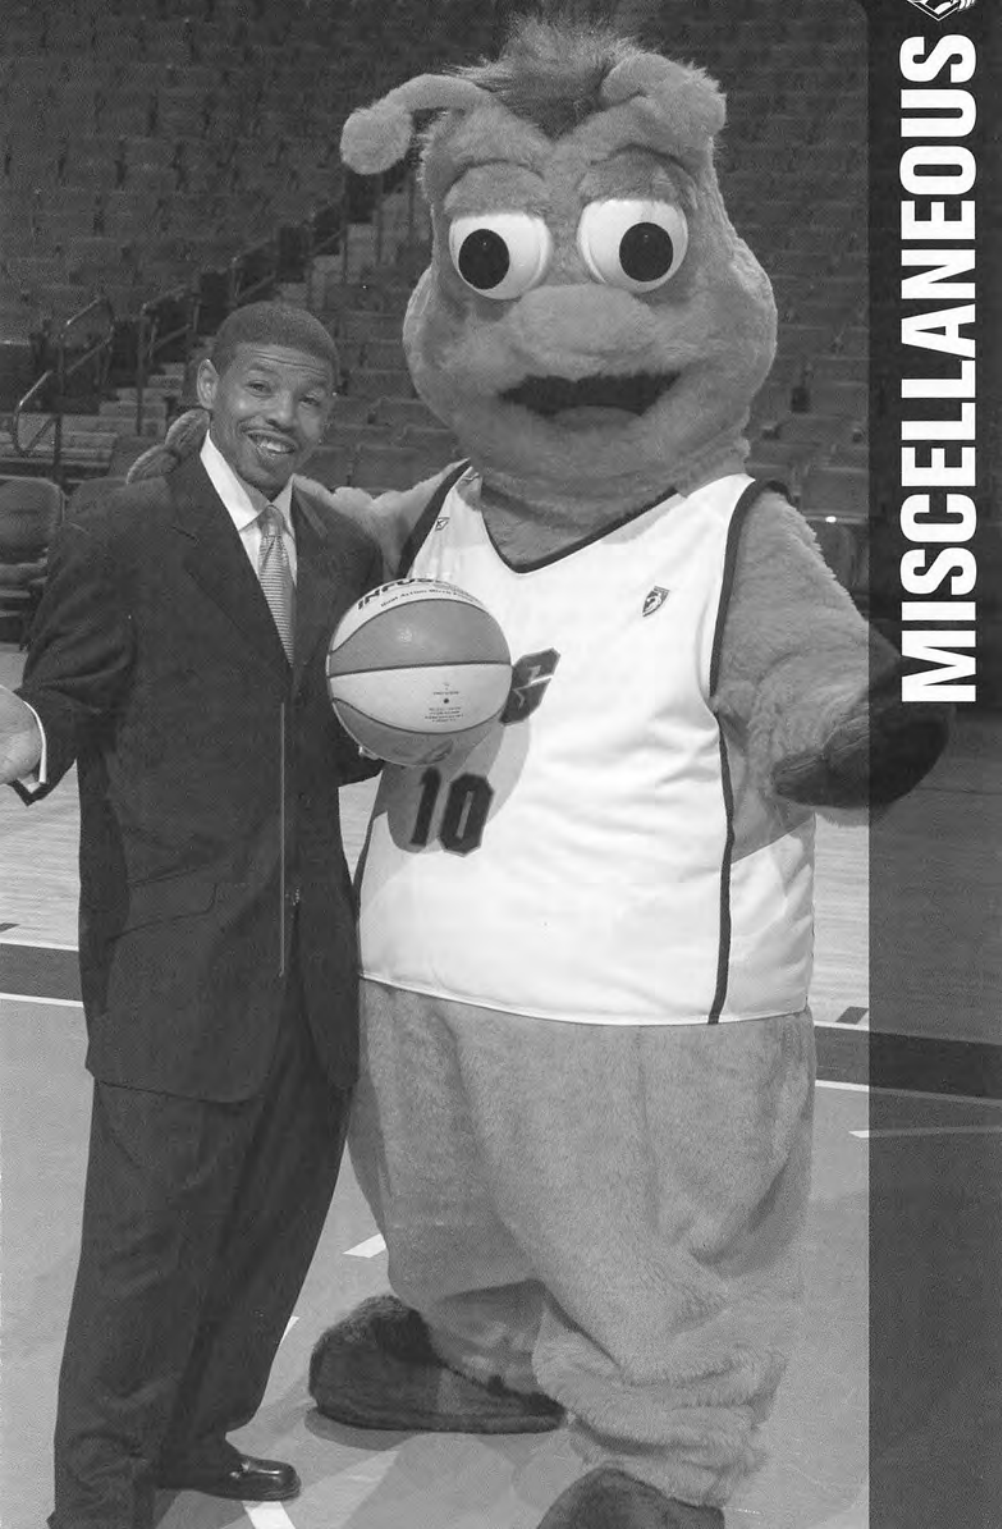

WE GOT GAME

Women's basketball has come a long way since its beginnings in 1892 when Senda Berenson adapted James Naismith's basketball rules for women. And with the continued growth of the WNBA, the sport continues to grow in popularity and set new standards for what women athletes, and women in general, can achieve. MISCELLANEOUS

STING IN THE COMMUNITY

Through WNBA Cares, the WNBA and the Charlotte Sting are deeply committed to creating programs that improve the quality of life for all people, with a special emphasis on promoting a healthy lifestyle and positive body image, breast health awareness, youth and family development and education.

WNBA Cares in partnership with NBA Cares, an initiative through which the league, players and teams will raise and contribute $100 million for charity; donate more than one million hours of hands-on volunteer service to communities worldwide; and build more than 100 places where kids and families can live, learn and play over the next five years.

WNBA BE SMART – BE FIT – BE YOURSELF

WNBA Be Smart - Be Fit - Be Yourself encourages teens and women of all ages to learn more about their bodies and the importance of physical fitness through programs related to health, fitness, nutrition and self-esteem. Programming inspires teens and women to get started on "being fit" through small changes in their daily regimen. The content of the program is communicated and delivered through a Fitness Journal, a Team of Spokespeople, National and Local grassroots events, promotion and a mobile tour.

BREAST HEALTH AWARENESS

For nine years, the WNBA Breast Health Awareness program has focused on generating awareness and educating women about breast cancer in addition to raising funds for the initiative. The WNBA and its teams have raised nearly $2 million to aid in the fight against breast cancer.

READ TO ACHIEVE

Read to Achieve is a year-round, league-wide initiative supported by NBA, WNBA and NBADL teams that promotes the values of reading and online literacy and encourages families and adults to read regularly with young children. The program includes reading events, the donation of books and literacy materials and the creation of Reading and Learning Centers

JR. WNBA AND YOUTH BASKETBALL NETWORK

By stressing fundamental skill development, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive adult participation, the Jr. WNBA and the Charlotte Bobcats/Sting Youth Basketball Network aims to develop a life-long passion for the game of basketball by providing a support structure that encourages participation, and makes the game fun and rewarding for players, coaches, officials and parents.

COMMUNITY ASSIST AWARD

The WNBA Community Assist Award was created to honor the WNBA Players that reflect the passion that the league and its players have for their communities. The WNBA recognizes one player in each of the 14 WNBA team markets with an offseason Community Assist Award. The WNBA donates $500 in the name of each offseason award winner to the charity of her choice. In June, July and August the WNBA chooses one player from across the league for the Community Assist Award and donates $5,000 in the name of that player to the charity of her choice. On-court presentations to the winning players occur. Past winners of the WNBA Community Assist Award from the Charlotte Sting include Dawn Staley (June 2001), Andrea Stinson (2003-04 offseason and September 2004) and Nicole Powell (July 2004).

CHARLOTTE BOBCATS

The Charlotte Bobcats ended their second season on a franchise-high four game winning streak en route to a 26-56 mark. The 26 wins was an eight-game improvement upon the inaugural season's 18 victories. Under the leadership of General Manager & Head Coach Bernie Bickerstaff, the team's sophomore effort was a success with stellar performances both individually and by the team.

Not only did the Bobcats finish strong, but the team opened its season on a high note, playing its first game in Charlotte Bobcats Arena on November 5 before a sellout crowd of 19,026.

Taking on the Boston Celtics one night after upending the Philadelphia 76ers on the road, the Bobcats treated their fans to a 107-105 overtime win. It was the first of 17 home victories.

On the year, Charlotte captured the season series against Atlanta (3-1), New York (3-0) and Philadelphia (3-1). The Bobcats also split the season series with Chicago, Indiana, Golden State, Houston, the L.A. Lakers, Minnesota, Portland, Sacramento, Seattle and Utah.

Strong defense saw the Bobcats lead the NBA in steals (10.2), forced turnovers (17.9) and points off turnovers (19.0). Charlotte's defensive charge was led by Gerald Wallace, who became the first player to average more than 2.0 steals (2.51) and 2.0 blocks (2.09) in a season since David Robinson in 1991-92. The Charlotte small forward joined Robinson and Hakeem Olajuwon, a pair of future Hall of Famers that played the center position, as the only three players in NBA history to average over 2.0 steals and 2.0 blocks.

Wallace's 2.51 steals were an NBA best, while teammate Brevin Knight's 2.28 steals were good for second league-wide. The tandem of Wallace and Knight became the first pair of teammates to finish a season in the top two spots of one of the NBA's major statistical categories since 1987-88, when Kevin McHale (.604) and Robert Parrish (.589) topped the league in field goal percentage.

Raymond Felton, the team's fifth pick in the 2005 NBA Draft, proved to be the NBA's most productive rookie over the season's second half. Felton took home Rookie of the Month honors for February, March and April, and no other first-year player scored more points (16.7) after February 1 than the North Carolina product. Felton closed the season posting double figures in 19 consecutive games and scored 20-plus points in six of the last 13 games.

As a team, the Bobcats were bitten by the injury bug during the 2005-06 campaign. The 2004-05 NBA Rookie of the Year, Emeka Okafor, played in 26 games as a result of a sprained ankle. Lottery selection Sean May was sidelined by knee soreness that ultimately led to a second knee surgery, allowing him to play in only 25 games. As a unit, Charlotte missed 257 games due to injury -- second most in the NBA behind Houston.

The return of the team's key components, plus the addition of a lottery pick in the 2006 NBA Draft have the Bobcats poised to take another step forward in 2006-07.
